

Social and Gender Assessment Reporting Analyst

A. Introduction

The Millennium Challenge Corporation (MCC) is a United States government-owned corporation responsible for the stewardship of the Millennium Challenge Account (MCA). MCC works with developing countries to promote sustainable economic growth to reduce poverty. MCC provides oversight and technical support to countries during Compact Development and during Compact Implementation. During the Compact Development phase (Due Diligence), MCC conducts social, gender and environmental assessments, as well as cost-benefit analysis to assess the proposed projects' likely economic impact and cost-effectiveness and estimate the share of the population who may benefit from the program. After a Compact is signed, the Department of Compact Implementation, is responsible for providing financial oversight, technical backstopping and for monitoring progress through key indicators. MCC's focus on results requires the close monitoring and measuring of economic impact in terms of household income and poverty reduction.

B. Scope of Work

The Social and Gender Assessment (SGA) unit is part of the Technical Services Division of MCC's Department of Compact Operations and works with country counterparts and other MCC staff to analyze social context and proactively identify opportunities for social inclusion, especially in the context of social inequalities (like gender) that are constraints to poverty reduction through growth. The SGA team is responsible for ensuring that gender integration is accomplished throughout compact development and implementation phases and that gender milestones are met.

The SGA team is seeking an entry-level analyst on a consultancy basis to support the team in its country technical support and compact-related work, including but not limited to, knowledge management, research, report writing, outreach and communication efforts, and other tasks to improve capacity among our country counterparts.
